

Shukrawari Beej

Pir Hasan Kabirdin was one of the 5 sons of Pir Sadardin. During that time the Pirs lived in India and the Imams were ruling in Iran in Alamut.

From time to time the Pirs collected the dasond money and paid a visit to the Imam of the time. The Imam of the time then was Shri Islam Shah. Pir Hasan Kabirdin visited the Imam and presented him with a pagdi (something people wore on head). In this pagdi Pir Hasan Kabirdin had written Anant Akhado and Nav Chuga on a cloth he weaved himself from the threads of cotton. This is a granth which has 500 verses. We recite a part of this every evening before the first prayer.

“ Sandhiya veda tame mata koi chuko”

The Imam was immensely happy and wore it immediately. At that time he appointed Pir Hasan Kabirdin as the Pir following Pir Sadardin and was given the instruction to continue propogating the religion.

Not only he appointed him as the future Pir but he then gave him the permission for the salvation of unlimited millions of souls. Pir Hasan Kabirdin begged the Imam that this was a very great responsibility and was tough for him to carry out. He gave the explanation to the Imam that in this period of Kaljug with so much crimes going on and the people are running away from the religion and referred them as “Khati Chaas” (means sour yogurt drink). He implied that it was very difficult to give salvation to these sinners. Then the Imam told him to give them the benefits of the years of his Ibadat that Pir Hasan Kabirdin had collected which would help these sinners to get salvation. The pir agreed to do so. In return the Imam has told us to keep “ MOWLANO ROJO” (Also known as Shukrawari beej) to thank and respect the Pir for his generous gift to the Jamat. It is a day of fasting. Hence this Rojo (FAST) is compulsory. We keep this rojo on the day of Chandraat (new moon) when it falls on Friday.

Pir Hasan Kabirdin died in the town of Ucch (in India) and he is buried there.
